Ephesians 1:1-2

Right from the start, Paul's hope is that the Ephesians believers would experience in real ways the _____ and _____ that they already had in Christ.

Paul's time in Ephesus included _____ the public to Jesus, seeing many choose to _____ Jesus, investing massive amounts of time in _____ believers with the truth, and proving the authority of his words by
_____.

From a prison cell, Paul wrote a letter to the church in Ephesus to continue the discipleship ministry that he had begun years before. The Ephesians had seen amazing miracles, received exceptional teaching in the truth of Christ, and been transformed by those truths in such a way that their region was never the same. Now, Paul wants to see them grow ever deeper into understanding all of what has been secured for them in Christ both in their transformation as individuals and their calling as a body of believers. May each one of us individually and our body collectively be open to understanding and embracing the similar work He has done in us as we study these truths together over the next several months.
