ROMANS I:24-27

*Due to Humanity's rejection of God, He allows our ways of thinking to become increasingly _____ and
_____, and then we have to live with the results.*

ROMANS I:28-32

As God's anger was put on display in the destruction of the Northern Kingdom, God's anger is on display within our world today. His punishment is in giving us the freedom to pursue a path of increasing depravity within society as a whole and our own individual lives. Humanity is on a downward trajectory of thinking and doing things that we never thought ourselves capable, only to then find a new low after that.

All of this is ample evidence of God's wrath. The question is not if God is angry...He is. The question is not if this is a result of His anger...it is. The question is not if we deserve it...we do. Like He was with Israel, God is rightly furious over the mess we've made, and He is doing something about it.
